CIS Sugar Market 2018

targeting export

The international conference «CIS Sugar Market» will take place for the 7th time in Moscow, on March 15th, 2018.

Over the last three years, the CIS beet sugar production has grown by nearly 30% to 9.4 mln tonnes, while cane sugar imports reduced by 40% to 2.1 mln tonnes in 2016/17 and are projected to fall further to 1.4 mln tonnes in 2017/18. Meantime, exports of white sugar increased from 800,000 tonnes to 1.5 mln tonnes. Thus, the place of the CIS on the world sugar map has been changing radically.

- Will the bloc become a net exporter and how difficult will it be to realize the full extent of its export potential?
- Do the CIS countries have an adequate export infrastructure?
- What are the key factors driving the success of the sugar beet sector in the CIS?
- Are deep processing of sugar beet raw materials and bioenergy a significant direction of the industry development?
- Are the CIS countries with high sugar production costs going to cover the deficit by importing sugar from their more efficient neighbours in the block?
- How good are the prospects of exporting sugar and sugar beet pulp and molasses to Europe and Asia for the CIS producers?
- What are the challenges and benefits of the sugar sector of the CIS countries for foreign investors?

Each year this event brings together about 400 delegates from more than 30 countries. They represent the leading companies involved in beet and sugar production, marketing of sugar and sugar by-products like molasses and beet pulp, as well as companies providing financial, technological, engineering, logistical, and insurance services for the sugar industry.

Attending the Conference gives you an opportunity to join the platform gathering the key CIS sugar market participants and to deepen your market knowledge, as well as providing a great opportunity for networking and widening the circle of potential partners and clients.

The day preceding the conference (March 14th, 2018) the Moscow Sugar Dinner will take place in Radisson Slavyanskaya hotel. The guests will have an opportunity to meet their colleagues in an informal and friendly atmosphere (by invitation only).

The conference will have simultaneous interpretation into English and Russian. The cost for participants includes the conference material, lunch and refreshments during coffee breaks.
